KEY FINDING

Regardless of political affiliation, Americans believe that President Trump should be the person or institution most responsible for combatting disinformation.

The biggest culprits identified as "very responsible" for the spread of disinformation are fake social media accounts (55%), politicians (45%), and President Trump (40%).

KEY FINDING